Terms of delivery

- The reproduction of archival material is subject to payment in line with the fees set by the management of the Germanisches Nationalmuseum that are valid at the time of ordering. The table of fees and charges can be downloaded at fee schedule
- The fee for providing a scan or reproduction of archival material does not include reproduction fees that may apply in the case of publication. No reproduction fees will be charged for academic publications with a print run of up to 1000 copies.
- If the object is protected by copyright,
 - scanned copies intended for personal or private use may not be distributed or published (Article 53 [3] UrhG [German Copyright Law]),
 - scanned copies intended for commercial use may only be published on payment of the appropriate fee to the copyright holder or publisher (Article 54 [2] UrhG). It is the responsibility of the purchaser of the reproduction to ensure that the required fee is paid to the copyright holder.
- If reproductions of copyrighted material are ordered, the purchaser is required to present prior written consent from the copyright holder when placing the order. Prior to the publication, distribution, or duplication of reproductions, written consent must be obtained from the Germanisches Nationalmuseum. Any publication of a reproduction must clearly state the owner as either "Nürnberg, Germanisches Nationalmuseum, Deutsches Kunstarchiv", "Nürnberg, Germanisches Nationalmuseum, Historisches Archiv" or "Nürnberg, Germanisches Nationalmuseum, Münzkabinett" along with the relevant reference or inventory number. A free copy of any publications using reproductions is to be sent unprompted to the Germanisches Nationalmuseum.
- Concessions for copies made for educational purposes only apply to researchers and students currently working in education or studying.
- Orders from for customers living abroad and domestic orders in excess of € 300 require prepayment.
